

Hannah S. Wilder
CEO Advantara[®]

AM, Harvard University
Specializing in Intercultural Leadership and Communications
PhD, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
International Leadership and Communications
Master Certified Coach
International Coach Federation, 2003
Professional Certified Coach
International Coach Federation 2001

Master Certified High Impact Teaming[®] Coach
Master Certified Global Executive Coach[®]
Member, Association for Coaching
Member, International Coach Federation

A recognized innovator and expert in global and cross cultural executive coaching, coach training, and mentoring, Hannah is also an internationally known presenter and keynote speaker on global leadership and coaching. Her areas of special interest and expertise are in intercultural and global leadership and executive coaching with individuals and teams in the public, private, and non profit sectors, High Awareness Coaching[®], Intentional Enquiry[®] and PresencePlus[®] Leadership and Coaching. Hannah has worked with people from over 60 countries on five continents is widely recognized as a breakthrough leader among coaches working with culturally diverse teams and individuals at a geographical distance.

Mentor Coaching with Hannah.....

Hannah mentors intermediate and advanced coaches from various coach training programs and is the lead mentor coach at Advantara[®] Global Executive Learning and Coach Training Institute. Her Mentoring hours exceed 1000, and her executive coaching hours exceed 5,000 hours. As of early 2008, coaches mentored by Hannah have a one hundred percent success rate in becoming credentialed by the International Coach Federation.

Hannah works primarily with intercultural and global executive coaches to

- ❖ clarify their visions and missions
- ❖ design their practices
- ❖ organize and market their practices worldwide
- ❖ extend their revenue income beyond coaching into products and passive revenue
- ❖ support them in being the best and most professional coaches they can be while living well as global citizens, helping to create a better human and business environment.

She meets with her mentees regularly according to an agreed upon schedule, usually four times a month for about fifty minutes. In between there may be quick calls, chats, or emails about a success or challenge.

Comments from Coaches Mentored by Hannah

"I have been coached by Hannah for almost a year now and am more completely on track than I have been in fifteen years...My thinking is bigger, I'm more comfortable with high level playing, believe in myself more fully and can more solidly value what I have to offer. Hannah has been a blessing in my life; a reliable source of support and helpful challenge. She has helped me to define my own unique path and to bring it forward with confidence."

Barbara Bouchet, Strategic Coaching, Seattle, Washington, USA

Hannah Wilder provides the substance rather than just the form. The one-on-one mentoring sessions have given me new insights and understanding.

See Luan Foo, Executive Coach, Singapore
Past President, Singapore ICF
Founder, APAC (Asia Pacific Coaches Association)
Executive Coach, Microsoft Corporation

"Thank you for another BRILLIANT coaching session I LOVE having so much fun and working on serious stuff at the same time. Thank you for the good coaching about the finances as well, I really see that we covered a lot of ground in our call - amazing."

Alcinoo Giandinoto, Coach and Coach Trainer, Spain

"Hannah supports and challenges me in a way that I accomplish more than I imagine I could. She helps me to uncover hidden blocks to my passion and power. "

Kathy Benson, Coach, Los Angeles, California, USA

"Hannah, I just wanted to let you know how much I've appreciated our coaching contract and relationship. You have given me far more than the material investment has cost and I know that it will continue to pay dividends. I believe I'm a better global citizen today than I was before we began and that testimony comes despite my years of international experience."

Dan Martinson, Michigan and Maine , USA

"Your style is welcoming and easy to be with, whether I am charging ahead or lost in the fog - you keep your center and my swings don't effect our coaching sessions; for me this results in consistently excellent sessions - no matter where I start from I end on a positive, energetic note, energy I can then take into my day/week; I admire your balance here and am working to emulate it"
Joanne Lee, Olympia, Washington

Hannah's fees for coach mentoring are localized by economic region. She coaches by phone and is based in the United Kingdom, where she has free or low cost international calling via Skype or land line to most locations.

For more biographical information about Hannah, and comments from coaches she has trained, please visit www.advantara.com and click on Our Global Network, where you can view and download an updated biography. Click on Comments from Clients, Colleagues and Participants for more comments from those who have worked with her as clients, colleagues or participants in her programs and special interest groups.

Contact Hannah at HSW@Advantara.com to set up an informational interview on Coach Mentoring, providing as much information as possible about what you are looking for in a coach mentor.

She will provide you with her Skype name and telephone numbers for personal phone interviews.